

Pathways to Global Social Work

Spring Break

Global Education Office
Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions

Travel to Hermosillo, Mexico over Spring Break for a service learning opportunity of a lifetime! You will be exposed to Sonoran culture and learn how social services are developed and provided in this country. The program will include visits to local community programs, participation in workshops discussing a variety of social work topics and site visits in the community. For our service project we will visit communities where we will be immersed in the true culture, history, economy, and people of the region through a partner university, Universidad de Sonora in Hermosillo.

Key Details

Dates: March 7 - March 13, 2022

Eligibility: Minimum 2.75 GPA

Application Deadline: November 15, 2021

Course: SWU 374: Diversity and Oppression in the social work context (3 credits)*

SWU 494/SWG 598: Pathways to Global Social Work /Caminos a Trabajo Social (1 credit)

*For students taking course #1, the travel abroad experience will be embedded into the course. Students can be enrolled in A or C session during the given semester. For students, taking course #2, the travel abroad experience will be standalone.

Program Fee: TBD

Program fee includes: Shared housing, some meals, site visits and cultural events, in-country transportation, some meals, ASU faculty support, and international health insurance.

Apply Here

studyabroad.asu.edu/?go=SocialWork

Funding Resources

mystudyabroad.asu.edu/financing

Program Leaders

Ivelisse (Evie) Lopez-Gonzalez | ivelisse.lopez-gonzalez@asu.edu
Melanie Reyes | melanie.reyes@asu.edu

Global Education Office International Coordinator

Caroline Zeiher | caroline.zeiher@asu.edu