Optional Writing Sample

You have the option of submitting a sample of your written work. Examples include a referred journal article, a class paper, and a professional report, such as one might write in an agency setting. The writing sample should illustrate your ability to succeed in the PhD program.